Chad Wyss

cwyss@tractionlimitracing.com

- Personal Profile

Birth Date: 8/30/1973

Height / Weight: 5'11" / 155 lbs.

Personal Status: Single

Occupation: Data Network Analyst

Hobbies: Recreational motorcycling (on and off-road), Water Skiing, Snow Skiing/Snow Boarding, Snowmobiling, Roller Blading

- Race Bikes

Model: 1994 Kawasaki ZX-7R (Primary) and 1993 Kawasaki ZX-7 (Backup)

(considering acquiring a late model 600c.c. class bike for next season to replace the aging 750c.c. bikes)

Tuning: Engine - Jay Riddle Racing, Morton, IL; Chassis / Suspension - 4 & 6 Cycle (Computrack GMD), Chicago, IL; General Mechanical – Self

- Objective

Continue to learn about, and advance my skills in the art of road racing motorcycles. I would eventually like to attain a level, where I would merit enough sponsorship, and contingency to have minimal out of pocket expenses.

- Experience

I purchased my first motorcycle in 1996, and swapped it for my first sports bike the next year. In 1998 I decided to take a riding school, and I chose California Superbike School. After getting my first taste of riding on a track, and dragging my knee, I knew I had to find a way to spend more time on racetracks.

Last year I decided to begin racing. Other than knowing how to twist a throttle, I was pretty ignorant about racing. Although my results weren't stellar, I didn't finish last, and I learned a lot that first year. This season, I'm still learning an incredible amount about racing, but the best thing is that I'm running competitively. I got a rather late start on the season, and missed the first several races. However, I wasn't really looking to turn expert this year anyway, so my point totals were not that important (except for starting grid positions).

I've returned to California Superbike School the past two years, also. I try to make it to at least one school each year, as I find it beneficial to have someone with expertise, critic my riding style. I've never left one of those classes without adding at least one key element to my arsenal of riding knowledge. Just finding one technique that works, is worth the whole class.

- Goals for 2001

1. Finish in the top 5 in each race
2. Make it to 90% or more of the region's races
3. Acquire Expert status for the following season
(this will happen by attaining the first two goals)
